Human and Divine

The classic definition of theology is, 'faith seeking understanding'. In other words, trying to seek a correct understanding of faith. I have 3 degrees in theology, BA, MA and a PhD. My research is in historical theology, from the 1st century to the 7th, and I have always thought that the key to a correct understanding lies in understanding the context. In my career, I loathe books that claim sensational things about Christianity that the academic community knows is total codswallop but the average Joe doesn't. I then have to spend time counteracting claims that those I encounter are convinced that I am hiding something that some foolish author has made up. The classic example was The Da Vinci Code by Dan Brown (no relative of mine!). Christianity has two main problems in the modern world. 1). That its historical claims are accurate. 2). That its theology is coherent. As a Historical Theologian, to both, I can say yes, and here's why.

We know that Jesus of Nazareth was a real person, who was born while Caesar Augustus was alive at the same time Herod the Great was. This puts his birth around 4–6 BC. We know that he was a 'tekton', which is confusingly translated as a 'Carpenter'. Jesus did not make furniture and I think the more accurate description would be that of a general builder. He made houses. We know that he died around AD 30 and was crucified under the Judean Governor Pontius Pilatus, whose name is inscribed in stone in what is referred to as the Pilate Stone, 'S TIBERIÉVM PONTIVS PILATVS PRAEFECTVS IVDAEAE'. It is incomplete but would say something like, '... Caesar Tiberius, Pontius Pilate, Prefect of Judea'. So there are things we are certain about which very, very few scholars dispute regardless of faith, many of which I know. That Jesus was born, lived and died on a cross.

Christians believe something more. In terms of history, the accounts we have of Jesus are written by those either close to him or those who did. St Paul for example, knew Jesus' family and his disciples. A pretty close proximity to the man. Historically, this is quite unusual, that we have such close proximity to the events and the man. So why does this matter? Because not only does he have a personal experience of Jesus the Messiah, but he also knew those closest to him. The New Testament is all about seeking to understand the man they knew which is more than what we can know today. Nevertheless, at this time of year, both things overlap quite well. Jesus is born but some notice that he is unique, the shepherds and the wise men.

As we approach Christmas this year, not expecting much more than we usually see. Perhaps we may glimpse something different about Jesus, in song, scripture or poetry, or wonderment at the meaning of life and ask, as Sir John Betjeman wrote: 'Can with this single truth compare - that God was man in Palestine and lives today in bread and wine.' - Phill

PARISH COUNCIL UPDATES

The Parish Council met on Tuesday 11th November. There were twelve councillors present and eleven members of the public. Our Herefordshire Council Ward Councillor, Mrs Pauline Crocket was in attendance. The Parish Council's Clerk, Mrs Paulette Scholes ensures that the meeting is conducted effectively and in accordance with the various governance requirements expected of a public body.

After welcoming those present and receiving apologies, we always start with a public participation session.

We firstly get an update from Cllr Crockett about Herefordshire Council's activities that might affect the Parish. These included an update on next year's Council Tax, the new green waste service which starts next April and the traffic management scheme by the school, which should be finally completed later this month.

We then open the floor to local residents who can raise issues of interest or concern. We always listen carefully to these and do our best to respond. It is often the case that resolution sits outside of the Parish Council. In these cases, we do our best to raise the issue with the appropriate organisation. Issues raised included inappropriate parking at Redstone.

We discussed a Planning Application. These are always determined by Herefordshire Council but we are consulted and respond reflecting local views. Herefordshire Council doesn't always agree with our views but we do influence the decisions made. Our responses are always recorded in our minutes which are available as a draft on the Parish Council's website as soon as possible after a meeting.

We discussed whether the Parish Council should commission and take responsibility for a crossing over the ditch at Tillington Common. As with many decisions there were pros and cons to such an arrangement, and the Parish Council had to balance these. Ultimately, the Parish Council must ensure public safety and on this basis we agreed not to pursue the matter at this time.

We discussed whether the Parish Council should commission and take responsibility for a crossing over the ditch at Tillington Common. As with many decisions there were pros and cons to such an arrangement, and the Parish Council had to balance these. Ultimately, the Parish Council must ensure public safety and on this basis we agreed not to pursue the matter at this time.

The Parish Council has received some flooding equipment, mostly flood-bags which are inflatable 'sand-bags' which expand on contact with water. However, there are not enough for all potentially affected properties. The Parish Council will consider the matter at its next meeting. One option is for the Parish Council to purchase equipment and make this available to local residents at a subsidised rate. If you might be interested in such an arrangement please let our Clerk know.

The Parish Council and the Parochial Church Council (PCC) have been working together to ensure that a high-quality Community Magazine continues to be delivered to residents of the parish. This is a fantastic community asset and we thank the PCC and Amy, the new editor for their help and support.

Every year, the Parish Council makes a number of grants to local community organisations to support their good work, in total grants of £5,900 were agreed for next year.

The Parish Council also has to set the 'precept' for next year. This is the local 'tax' which funds the Parish Council's budget. We always try to keep any increase as low as possible. For the year starting April 2026, we agreed not to increase the precept at all. It will be the same as this year. Thanks to good financial management, we have been able to do this previously and over the last five years have one of the lowest average increases of any Parish Council in Herefordshire.

Our next meeting is 13th January, 2026, 7.00pm. Please do come along and observe or make a contribution. We currently have two vacancies, if you are interested in joining us and helping to make a difference locally, then please do contact our Clerk (details on our website).

A note from Editor- Parish Magazine Update

Over the last couple of editions, we've been keeping you informed about the challenges surrounding the distribution of the parish magazine. As many of you will know, we had been preparing to change the way the magazine was delivered—from posting a copy through every door to providing copies at a number of local pick-up points, supported by an online version. This was due to a shortage of volunteers able to coordinate and carry out the regular delivery rounds.

We are very pleased to share some encouraging news. Following our recent appeals, a number of parishioners have expressed interest in helping with the Distribution Coordinator role. Thanks to this wonderful response, we are now optimistic that the role will be fully supported going forward, which in turn means we can look positively at the future of our magazine's distribution.

A huge and heartfelt thank you to everyone who has been involved during this period—those who attended meetings, exchanged countless emails, and spent time thinking and planning the best way ahead. Your willingness to help and your care for our community have made all the difference.

We will continue to keep you updated, and we are grateful for your patience and support as we move into this next chapter for our parish magazine.

“Burghill in Bloom”

Burghill Village and Burghill Valley Golf Club received GOLD Awards and Burghill, Tillington and Weobley Cricket Club received a Level 4 Thriving Certificate at the Heart of England in Bloom Awards at Malvern last month.

The high standard we continually achieve would not be possible without the help of the many dedicated volunteers who work hard all year round to improve our village and look after the planters. We would also like to thank the following for their contribution:

Burghill Parish Council	Burghill Academy
Burghill Valley Golf Club	The Copse Leisure Trust
Burghill Girlguiding HQ	Burghill CAP
St Mary's Parochial Church Council	The Simpson Hall
Balfour Beatty	Burghill Community Cafe
Burghill Gardening Club	Knit One, Natter Too
OTM Groundcare Ltd	Denise Reynolds
Twink Helme
Burghill, Tillington & Weobley Cricket Club

We held our own Awards Evening for those people who had entered the recycled container, old shoes and garden competitions and below are some of the recipients with the two RHS judges.

Category Winners: Garden - Jacqui Fitt; Recycled Planter - The Cameron Family; Old Footware - Max Jenman.

Special Awards: The RHS Recognition Award – John Parnaby; Services to the Community of Burghill – Helen Green, Jenny Jones; Certificate of Merit – Tony Jenkins, Jean McCall; Community Organisation – Burghill Girlguiding.

Knit One, Natter Too

Autumn is a good time to start a new project or a new craft. You don't have to be a knitter - bring your own craft project and come along.

You can be sure of a warm welcome, whatever your interest or level of expertise. We have some (almost) complete beginners as well as more experienced members who are always willing to provide advice or practical help.

You are also welcome if you only want to natter!

We usually meet on the 2nd and 4th Wednesday of each month in the Simpson Hall, from 2-4pm, with refreshments provided, paying £2 per session.

There is only ONE meeting in December, on the 10th.
January meetings are on the 14th and 28th
